

ABSTRACT

This invention is a medical examination gown with devices to hold it together

The two outer surfaces with heavy adhesive adhere to both sides of the gown. Until they are affixed to the gown, they are covered with peel-off strip covering. Or mechanical closure devices like a snap or clip